

sinclair's decision to air the anti-Kerry documentary troubles me, especially in view of the fact that they were opposed to the honor-reading of the names of the fallen in Iraq by their affiliates on the grounds that it was "too political". This demonstrates why the media ownership rules and the license renewal process should ensure that the needs of our communities are being met.

Thank you for your attention.

Janette Lever